General Services Administration

January 2, 2018

The Honorable Trey Gowdy
Chairman, Committee on Oversight and Government Reform
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Chairman Gowdy:

Thank you for your letter dated December 8, 2017, requesting information about "guidance documents issued by [our] agency since January 1, 2008."

As one of the Federal Government's central management agencies, the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) issues policies to assist agencies in carrying out their missions. GSA accomplishes this through four comprehensive regulations: the Federal Property Management Regulation, the Federal Management Regulation, the Federal Travel Regulation, and GSA's supplement to the Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR), the General Services Acquisition Regulation (GSAR). GSA is also a member of the Federal Acquisition Regulatory Council.

The referenced U.S. Government Accountability Office (GAO) report stated the purpose of guidance is to "explain and help regulated parties comply with agency regulations."<sup>1</sup> GAO's review was "limited to guidance issued to external parties"<sup>2</sup> and also referenced the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Bulletin entitled, "Agency Good Guidance Practices," which excluded "...purely internal agency policies; guidance documents that pertain to the use, operation or control of a government facility; [and] internal guidance documents directed solely to other Federal agencies..."<sup>3</sup>

GSA's guidance documents are focused on internal GSA policies or are intended for use by other Executive Branch agencies that rely on GSA's services. Neither of these groups falls within the scope of guidance as defined by GAO or OMB. When GSA does seek to issue guidance directed external entities – namely contractors seeking to do business or doing business with the Government – it follows the procedures prescribed by the Administrative Procedures Act (5 U.S.C. 553) and the Office of Federal Procurement Policy Act (41 U.S.C. 1707). GSA follows this approach when conducting notice and comment rulemaking, or when formally incorporating policies into GSA's regulations.

Nevertheless, please refer to the table attached to this letter, which provides a list of agency guidance documents, the impacted parties, and the published location, as well as the following examples of non-regulatory policies issued by GSA.

GSA's internal and intra-Executive Branch guidance documents include, but not limited to, memoranda issued by the Senior Procurement Executive to GSA procurement offices; bulletins, notices, and deviation documents issued by GSA to other agencies for travel, transportation and asset management issues; and guidance documents for Federal advisory committee management. GSA's guidance documents are not considered significant under Executive Order 12866 and, therefore, are not reviewed by OMB's Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs. Accordingly, these guidance documents are not submitted to Congress or GAO.

The heads of certain GSA offices, such as the Federal Acquisition Service, the Public Buildings Service, the Office of the Chief Financial Officer, and the Office of the Chief Information Officer, also issue GSA Orders on matters other than procurement.

GSA's Senior Procurement Executive has the authority to issue exceptions, called deviations, to the FAR and the GSAR. These deviations are issued through memoranda or "Acquisition Letters." While deviations are usually internally focused, they may change a contract requirement, and, therefore, affect contractors. However, deviations are issued to address immediate concerns and are temporary in nature, unless formally incorporated into regulation via rulemaking. GSA does not consider these actions to be agency guidance as defined by GAO and OMB, as they are issued under the purview of the FAR "...when necessary to meet the specific needs and requirements of each agency."<sup>4</sup> Nonetheless, the published location of these deviations is shown in the attachment to this letter.

Finally, the GSA Regulatory Reform Task Force has built upon the intent and spirit of Executive Orders 13771 and 13777 by expanding the scope of its review to include non-regulatory policies and practices. This approach provides an opportunity to review GSA's day-to-day work and non-regulatory activities that could lead GSA to better serve its customers, and ultimately, the American people. The task force's review is ongoing and results have yet to be finalized.

by the Administrative Procedures Act (5 U.S.C. 553) and the Office of Federal Procurement Policy Act (41 U.S.C. 1707). GSA follows this approach when conducting notice and comment rulemaking, or when formally incorporating policies into GSA's regulations.

Nevertheless, please refer to the table attached to this letter, which provides a list of agency guidance documents, the impacted parties, and the published location, as well as the following examples of non-regulatory policies issued by GSA.

GSA's internal and intra-Executive Branch guidance documents include, but not limited to, memoranda issued by the Senior Procurement Executive to GSA procurement offices; bulletins, notices, and deviation documents issued by GSA to other agencies for travel, transportation and asset management issues; and guidance documents for Federal advisory committee management. GSA's guidance documents are not considered significant under Executive Order 12866 and, therefore, are not reviewed by OMB's Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs. Accordingly, these guidance documents are not submitted to Congress or GAO.

The heads of certain GSA offices, such as the Federal Acquisition Service, the Public Buildings Service, the Office of the Chief Financial Officer, and the Office of the Chief Information Officer, also issue GSA Orders on matters other than procurement.

GSA's Senior Procurement Executive has the authority to issue exceptions, called deviations, to the FAR and the GSAR. These deviations are issued through memoranda or "Acquisition Letters." While deviations are usually internally focused, they may change a contract requirement, and, therefore, affect contractors. However, deviations are issued to address immediate concerns and are temporary in nature, unless formally incorporated into regulation via rulemaking. GSA does not consider these actions to be agency guidance as defined by GAO and OMB, as they are issued under the purview of the FAR "...when necessary to meet the specific needs and requirements of each agency."<sup>4</sup> Nonetheless, the published location of these deviations is shown in the attachment to this letter.

Finally, the GSA Regulatory Reform Task Force has built upon the intent and spirit of Executive Orders 13771 and 13777 by expanding the scope of its review to include non-regulatory policies and practices. This approach provides an opportunity to review GSA's day-to-day work and non-regulatory activities that could lead GSA to better serve its customers, and ultimately, the American people. The task force's review is ongoing and results have yet to be finalized.

MAJORITY (202) 225-5074

Mr. Timothy O. Horne
Acting Administrator
U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20405

Dear Mr. Horne:

Agencies issue a wide variety of policy documents for different purposes. Generally, when a policy is intended to be binding, agencies issue a regulation.<sup>1</sup> Other times, agencies issue statements of policy, interpretive rules, and other guidance regarding how the agency plans to interpret laws and legislative rules.<sup>2</sup>

These various forms of guidance are not legally binding, but, according to the Government Accountability Office (GAO), the documents have wide-ranging effects on public and private sector behavior. In a 2015 report, GAO stated: “guidance documents can have a significant effect on regulated entities and the public, both because of agencies’ reliance on large volumes of guidance documents and the fact that the guidance can prompt changes in the behavior of regulated parties and the general public.”<sup>3</sup>

The GAO also found agencies’ use of guidance varied significantly, ranging from as few as ten at some agencies to more than one hundred guidance documents each year at others.<sup>4</sup> The reason for this discrepancy is unclear. It is also unclear whether there are uniform practices or strategies throughout the executive branch for developing and issuing guidance documents.

To help the Committee better understand how and when federal agencies issue guidance documents, please provide a list of all guidance documents issued by your agency since January 1, 2008, including the following for each guidance document listed:

<sup>2</sup> Agencies use a variety of names to refer to guidance documents, such as memoranda, policy statements, manuals, circulars, bulletins, advisories, or guidance. The Office of Management and Budget defines a guidance document as an agency statement of general applicability and future effect that sets forth a policy or interprets a statutory or regulatory issue. Id. at 7.

Responding to Committee Document Requests

1. In complying with this request, you are required to produce all responsive documents that are in your possession, custody, or control, whether held by you or your past or present agents, employees, and representatives acting on your behalf. You should also produce documents that you have a legal right to obtain, that you have a right to copy or to which you have access, as well as documents that you have placed in the temporary possession, custody, or control of any third party. Requested records, documents, data or information should not be destroyed, modified, removed, transferred or otherwise made inaccessible to the Committee.
2. In the event that any entity, organization or individual denoted in this request has been, or is also known by any other name than that herein denoted, the request shall be read also to include that alternative identification.
3. The Committee's preference is to receive documents in electronic form (i.e., CD, memory stick, or thumb drive) in lieu of paper productions.
4. Documents produced in electronic format should also be organized, identified, and indexed electronically.
5. Electronic document productions should be prepared according to the following standards:
  - (a) The production should consist of single page Tagged Image File ("TIF"), files accompanied by a Concordance-format load file, an Opticon reference file, and a file defining the fields and character lengths of the load file.
  - (b) Document numbers in the load file should match document Bates numbers and TIF file names.
  - (c) If the production is completed through a series of multiple partial productions, field names and file order in all load files should match.
  - (d) All electronic documents produced to the Committee should include the following fields of metadata specific to each document;

BEGDOC, ENDDOC, TEXT, BEGATTACH, ENDATTACH,
PAGECOUNT, CUSTODIAN, RECORDTYPE, DATE, TIME, SENTDATE, SENTTIME, BEGINDATE, BEGINTIME, ENDDATE, ENDTIME, AUTHOR, FROM,
CC, TO, BCC, SUBJECT, TITLE, FILENAME, FILEEXT, FILESIZE,
DATECREATED, TIMECREATED, DATELASTMOD, TIMELASTMOD,
INTMSGID, INTMSGHEADER, NATIVELINK, INTFILPATH, EXCEPTION, BEGATTACH.
6. Documents produced to the Committee should include an index describing the contents of the production. To the extent more than one CD, hard drive, memory stick, thumb drive, box or folder is produced, each CD, hard drive, memory stick, thumb drive, box or folder should contain an index describing its contents.

7. Documents produced in response to this request shall be produced together with copies of file labels, dividers or identifying markers with which they were associated when the request was served.
8. When you produce documents, you should identify the paragraph in the Committee's schedule to which the documents respond.
9. It shall not be a basis for refusal to produce documents that any other person or entity also possesses non-identical or identical copies of the same documents.
10. If any of the requested information is only reasonably available in machine-readable form (such as on a computer server, hard drive, or computer backup tape), you should consult with the Committee staff to determine the appropriate format in which to produce the information.
11. If compliance with the request cannot be made in full by the specified return date, compliance shall be made to the extent possible by that date. An explanation of why full compliance is not possible shall be provided along with any partial production.
12. In the event that a document is withheld on the basis of privilege, provide a privilege log containing the following information concerning any such document: (a) the privilege asserted; (b) the type of document; (c) the general subject matter; (d) the date, author and addressee; and (e) the relationship of the author and addressee to each other.
13. If any document responsive to this request was, but no longer is, in your possession, custody, or control, identify the document (stating its date, author, subject and recipients) and explain the circumstances under which the document ceased to be in your possession, custody, or control.
14. If a date or other descriptive detail set forth in this request referring to a document is inaccurate, but the actual date or other descriptive detail is known to you or is otherwise apparent from the context of the request, you are required to produce all documents which would be responsive as if the date or other descriptive detail were correct.
15. Unless otherwise specified, the time period covered by this request is from January 1, 2009 to the present.
16. This request is continuing in nature and applies to any newly-discovered information. Any record, document, compilation of data or information, not produced because it has not been located or discovered by the return date, shall be produced immediately upon subsequent location or discovery.
17. All documents shall be Bates-stamped sequentially and produced sequentially.
18. Two sets of documents shall be delivered, one set to the Majority Staff and one set to the Minority Staff. When documents are produced to the Committee, production sets shall be delivered to the Majority Staff in Room 2157 of the Rayburn House Office Building and the Minority Staff in Room 2471 of the Rayburn House Office Building.

19. Upon completion of the document production, you should submit a written certification, signed by you or your counsel, stating that: (1) a diligent search has been completed of all documents in your possession, custody, or control which reasonably could contain responsive documents; and (2) all documents located during the search that are responsive have been produced to the Committee.

Department of Health and Human Services

December 22, 2017

The Honorable Trey Gowdy
Chairman
House Committee on Oversight and Government Reform
Rayburn 2157
Washington, D.C.

Dear Chairman Gowdy:

Thank you for your December 8, 2017, letter regarding guidance documents. As Associate Deputy Secretary Charles Keckler testified before your Committee on November 14, 2017, the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) is committed to improving the regulatory process as laid out by the President's Executive Orders.

Those Executive Orders require HHS to identify regulations for elimination and to form a Regulatory Task Force (RTF), to oversee the process and to evaluate existing regulations and, consistent with applicable law, make recommendations on their repeal, replacement or modification. HHS established its RTF on April 13, 2017. The leadership is comprised of the Reform Officer (the Deputy Secretary), the Regulatory Policy Officer (the General Counsel), and the Executive Secretary. The RTF also relies on the expertise of the Secretary's Senior Counselors, the Assistant Secretary for Financial Resources, the Assistant Secretary for Planning and Evaluation, and officials from the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) and the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS).

The Department subsequently created six working groups under the direction of the RTF, to assist in the process:

- The FDA Working Group assesses proposed deregulatory actions that can be taken with respect to FDA regulations and issues.
- The CMS Working Group reviews not only Medicare and Medicaid issues, but also actions that can be taken by the National Coordinator for Health IT, the Departmental Appeals Board, the Office of Inspector General, and the Office of Medicare Hearings and Appeals.
- The Services Working Group assesses the regulatory policies of the Administration for Children and Families, Health Resources and Services Administration, Indian Health Service, Office for Civil Rights, Office of the General Counsel, and Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration.

- The Science and Public Health Working Group is responsible for the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, National Institutes of Health, and Office of the Assistant Secretary for Health.
- The Performance Measures Working Group meets monthly to develop measures to report on HHS regulatory reform performance.
- The Analytics Team meets regularly to develop internal guidance to Operating and Staff Divisions on how to measure regulatory costs, cost-savings, and benefits.

These working groups will assist HHS and the RTF in its review of regulations and guidance documents.

Your letter requested information on the guidance documents that have been issued since January 1, 2008. Guidance documents directed externally are readily available in most cases:

- HHS.Gov/Regulations. The Department's regulatory web portal provides information and guidance on a number of Department policies, including the Health Insurance Portability Accountability Act, the Health Information for Economic and Clinical Health Act, and final rules by operating division as well as significant guidance documents.
- FDA.Gov/RegulatoryInformation/Guidances. The FDA provides a searchable database of guidance documents.
- CMS.Gov/Regulations-and-Guidance/Regulations-and-Guidance.html. CMS provides public links to manuals, regulations, policies, and information for the different types of providers in the Medicare and Medicaid systems.

If there are specific guidance documents that you wish to discuss, please contact the Office of the Assistant Secretary for Legislation.

The Department shares your interest in reducing the regulatory burden on patients and providers. As we continue to work to reduce this burden while improving safety, we are always willing to discuss how to better perform our RTF responsibilities.

Thank you,

Barbara Pisaro Clark
Acting Assistant Secretary for Legislation

February 15, 2018

The Honorable Trey Gowdy
Chairman
House Committee on Oversight and Government Reform
Rayburn 2157
Washington, D.C.

Dear Chairman Gowdy:

We are replying to your January 29, 2018 letter ("January 29 letter")<sup>1</sup> regarding the Department of Health and Human Services' (HHS) efforts to comply with your information requests. While we recognize Congress' important role in conducting oversight of the executive branch, your letter does not accurately reflect the Department's efforts.

The Committee's October 11, 2017 request seeking information relating to federal disaster preparedness and response in Puerto Rico and U.S. Virgin Islands

The Department produced materials responsive to this request on December 19, 2017 and February 2, 2018.<sup>2</sup>

During one of the most devastating hurricane seasons in American history, the Committee wrote to then Acting Secretary Don Wright, M.D. on October 11, 2017 requesting every document or communication "received, prepared, or sent" prior to September 5, 2017 relating to "threat assessments, mitigation measures, emergency preparedness, or other contingency plans in the case of a hurricane striking Puerto Rico or the U.S. Virgin Islands."<sup>3</sup> Your letter also requested every document or communication "received, prepared, or sent" by HHS during landfall for hurricanes Irma and Maria. The individuals who keep these records were in the midst of hurricane recovery and relief efforts; therefore responding to your request at that time would have required pulling them from their active response duties to conduct an administrative task.

In your letter you recognized the strain on agency resources your request would create and stated that "[w]e are aware of the many demands on the Department's resources following the hurricanes. Therefore, the Committee will coordinate with your staff on a production schedule that will meet the Committee's needs while respecting the importance of devoting Department resources to the immediate response effort." The January 29 letter criticizing the pace of production ignores the fact that your initial request, itself, indicated that a rigorous production schedule would be harmful to ongoing relief efforts and therefore you were not providing a hard deadline.

After hurricane season, Department and Committee staff convened a call on December 7, 2017 where we discussed producing the materials in question.<sup>4</sup> We produced the first batch in less than two weeks, on December 19, 2017.

The January 29 letter does not accurately represent HHS' efforts to update the Committee on the production. In a January 23, 2018 briefing with staff from the Office of the Assistant Secretary for Preparedness and Response, Committee staff requested an update on the status of the production. HHS staff indicated they would check and update the Committee. We did so, via e-mail, approximately 2 hours later.<sup>5</sup> Your January 29 letter ignores this response and incorrectly states that we were "unable to provide any update on the status of the response, whatsoever."

That same e-mail updating your staff on production of the documents indicated that the documents would be delivered the week of January 29. HHS produced these documents that week. On February 4, 2018 Department staff offered the Committee several options for how we could continue to provide information related hurricane preparedness and relief.<sup>6</sup> We are still awaiting a response.

The Committee's October 19, 2017 request for documents relating to the Medicare Part D program and opioid addiction or diversion

The Department produced materials responsive to this request on November 2, 2017,<sup>7</sup> November 22, 2017<sup>8</sup> and January 30, 2018.<sup>9</sup>

The Committee's January 29 letter avers that HHS has only produced "one of five categories of documents" before its two-week deadline. That statement fails to acknowledge that the Department provided the Committee with documents in the other categories on a rolling basis before the January 29 letter, and that the Committee did not object to that rolling production.<sup>10</sup>

At no time prior to January 29, 2018, did Committee staff indicate that the Department's production was behind schedule.

The Committee's November 2, 2017 request for information relating to cost-sharing reduction payments

CMS responded on December 19, 2017 to the Committee's letter requesting information on these payments.<sup>11</sup> This response explained both the cost-sharing reduction (CSR) payments and reconciliation process, as the Committee requested. CMS also provided the following documents:

- Annual Premium Tax Credit (APTC) and Cost-Sharing Reduction (CSR) payment amounts for FY 2014 along with the final payment amounts.
- A description of the termination clause in issuers' contracts.
- Guidance to issuers regarding reporting CSR amounts for 2015 MLR and risk corridors.
- December 13, 2017, First Half of 2017 Average Effectuated Enrollment Report, which includes APTC and CSR enrollment information the Committee requested.
- Guidance to issuers detailing the process for reconciling CSR payments for benefit years 2014 and 2015.
- Guidance to issuers detailing the process for reconciling CSR payments for benefit years 2016.
- An Excel spreadsheet that details the enrollment numbers and average CSR payments per enrollee by zip code.
- June 12, 2017, Effectuated Enrollment Snapshot, which includes APTC and CSR enrollment information the Committee requested.

Your January 29 letter describes all of this information in the following manner: "After committing to make progress, HHS staff eventually provided an outdated 2013 memo not responsive to the Committee's original request. To date, HHS has produced none of the 'prioritized' documents identified by Committee staff . . . ." This sentence strongly suggests that the Department produced only a single document of minimum relevance. That is not the case. The January 29 letter also fails to note the briefing CMS provided committee staff on December 7, 2017.

The Committee's December 8, 2017, request for a list of guidance documents

The most troubling section in the January 29 letter is the description of HHS' efforts to comply with your December 8, 2017 request<sup>12</sup> regarding guidance documents. The Committee's request asked HHS to gather for the Committee all guidance documents issued by the Department since January 1, 2008. The request also detailed, at length, the formatting and data that should be included in the document. Inasmuch as most HHS guidance documents that are labeled as such are available on-line, HHS replied on December 22, 2017<sup>13</sup> with links to departmental websites where guidance documents are available. However, according to the January 29 letter, the Department's response "raise(s) questions of competence and basic operational functionality of the legislative affairs department."

The January 29 letter did not mention that HHS staff and Committee staff spoke on January 4, 2018 about the Department's position on this matter.<sup>14</sup> HHS was concerned by the Committee's demand that the guidance documents be provided in specific format that differs from the format in which they were generated and are stored. As was explained to your staff, it is the view of HHS and the Office of the General Counsel that the Rules of the House of Representatives do not permit the Committee to compel HHS staff to create new documents for them. In the call, HHS staff asked Committee staff to identify the rule or judicial precedent that creates this authority. Committee staff has yet to provide such information. Instead, the January 29 letter claims that we have provided "no compelling reason—legal or otherwise—for withholding documents from the Committee." We have provided our legal position and have yet to hear your response.

It also appears that Committee staff did not fully review the information provided by the Department before you were asked to sign the January 29 letter. The January 29 letter describes the Department's December 22, 2017 response as having "no probative value." Yet, in a February 9, 2018 call Committee staff indicated that the information we provided regarding the Food and Drug Administration does provide a list of guidance documents. Many of the Department's documents denoted as "guidance" are issued by FDA pursuant to Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act § 701(h). It should be noted that the February 9 call involved the Department's General Counsel who explained to the Committee staff that there is no universally accepted definition of "guidance document" and that under the broadest reading, that term could include millions of documents. The General Counsel explained that the Committee staff's belated reliance on the OMB's definition of "guidance document" in its "Final Bulletin for Agency Good Guidance Practices" (2007) was too broad to provide meaningful boundaries to an otherwise elusive term.

<sup>12</sup> Letter from Trey Gowdy, Chairman, House Committee on Oversight & Government Reform, to Eric Hargan, Acting Secretary, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (Dec. 8, 2017)

<sup>13</sup> Letter from Barbara Pisaro Clark, Acting Assistant Secretary for Legislation, Department of Health and Human Services to Trey Gowdy, Chairman of the House Committee on Oversight & Government Reform (Dec. 22, 2017).

<sup>14</sup> Phone call between U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, with House Committee on Oversight & Government Reform (Jan. 4, 2018).

In light of this, Committee staff recognized the need to place boundaries on the definition of the term. Accordingly, we agreed to provide within fourteen days a description of our concerns with the definition of “guidance documents,” which we have done in this letter. Absent any further attempt by Committee staff to place meaningful limits on the definition of “guidance document,” we will be unable to respond in meaningful and productive way.

We share your concern and frustration at the all too common use of “guidance documents” by agencies. This Administration is taking steps to address this issue. As the General Counsel explained, the Department of Justice issued a memorandum stating that the Department “may not use its enforcement authority to effectively convert agency guidance documents into binding rules.”<sup>15</sup> Department litigators may not use noncompliance with guidance documents to prove violations of law.<sup>16</sup> We believe this policy should obviate the Committee’s concerns that guidance documents are being used to create binding rules that skirt the regulatory process required by Administrative Procedure Act § 4 and that impose obligations on the citizenry.

The Committee’s November 14, 2017 request for an action plan for compiling guidance documents

The January 29 letter also mischaracterizes the January 10, 2018 call between HHS and Committee staff, wherein we communicated to your staff that the 14-day plan of action is still being drafted.

The Committee’s December 20, 2017 request for information relating to HIPAA/HITECH guidance

On February 5, 2018 and February 6, 2018 the Department produced materials responsive to this request. The Department continues to search for documents responsive to this request.

If you have any other questions or wish to discuss these materials, please contact the office of the Assistant Secretary for Legislation.

Thank you,

Matthew D. Bassett
Assistant Secretary for Legislation

CC: The Honorable Elijah E. Cummings

The Honorable Trey Gowdy
Chairman, Committee on Oversight and Government Reform
U.S. House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515-6134

Dear Chairman Gowdy:

Pursuant to the Committee's request of December 8, 2017, I am pleased to provide you with a listing of the policy guidance documents that have been issued by the Merit Systems Protection Board (MSPB) since January 1, 2008.* That information is included in the enclosed table. The MSPB is not a regulatory agency; rather, it is an independent, quasi-judicial agency in the Executive branch that adjudicates individual employee appeals of adverse employment actions and conducts merit systems studies. In addition, MSPB reviews the significant actions of the Office of Personnel Management (OPM) to assess the degree to which those actions may affect the merit protection systems. Since MSPB is not a regulatory agency, we do not issue many guidance documents.

The enclosed table reflects a broad interpretation of "policy guidance documents." In particular, we have included documents released by the MSPB to aid parties who appear before the agency in interpreting agency case law, regulations, and procedures. Additionally, we have included some documents that pre-date 2008, but are still in current use by the agency. Please contact me or Rosalyn Coates of my staff at [REDACTED] or [REDACTED] if you or other members of the Committee have questions or require additional information.

Sincerely,

Mark A. Robbins
Vice Chairman
